- Read and comprehend (English) text, numbers and graphs displayed in print and on a video monitor.
- Move freely and safely about a laboratory.
- Perform moderately taxing continuous physical work using proper body mechanics and ergonomics, often requiring prolonged sitting over several hours.
- Reach laboratory bench tops and shelves, patients lying in hospital beds or patients seated in specimen collection furniture.
- Maneuver Medical Laboratory Science equipment to collect laboratory specimens.
- Manual dexterity to manipulate laboratory equipment using proper ergonomics (i.e., pipettes, inoculating loops, test tubes) and adjust instruments to perform laboratory procedures.
- Manipulate an electronic keyboard to operate laboratory instruments and to calculate, record, evaluate, and transmit laboratory information.
- Read and comprehend technical and professional materials (i.e., textbooks, magazine and journal articles, handbooks and instruction manuals).
- Follow oral and written instructions in order to correctly perform laboratory test procedures.
- Effectively, confidentially, and sensitively converse with health care team members regarding laboratory tests.
