I. INTRODUCTION TO SHARED GOVERNANCE

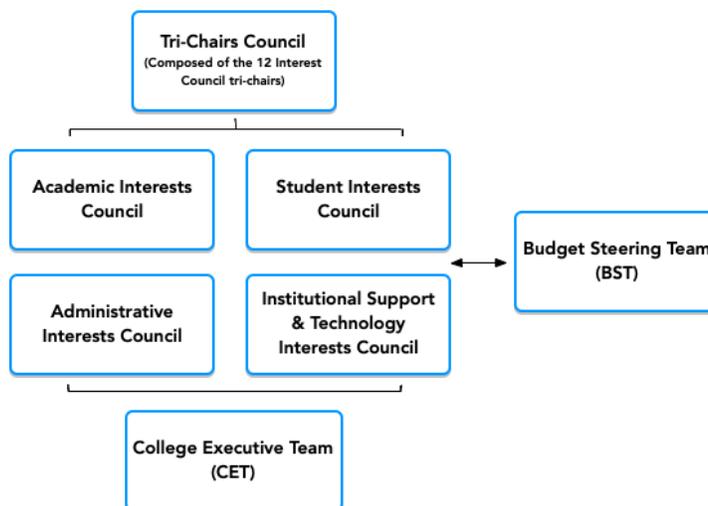

In the spirit of fostering collaboration, communication, and access to information among its faculty, staff, administrators, and students, Phoenix College (PC) is committed to decision making through a deliberate and intentional process of Shared Governance. Shared Governance empowers all members of Phoenix College to have a voice in decision-making, encouraging diverse and creative input that advances the success of the College and utilizes interest-based problem solving (IBPS).

WHAT IS SHARED GOVERNANCE?

- It recognizes and values the individual expertise and responsibilities of faculty, staff, administrators, and students as true partners in problem solving.
- It provides a venue and gives voice to common concerns, as well as to issues unique to specific groups.
- It depends on open communication and transparency in planning, deliberation, and implementation.
- It supports the shared vision of community colleges working collectively and responsibly to meet the life-long learning needs of diverse students and communities.

II. ORGANIZATION

While numerous groups at Phoenix College demonstrate Shared Governance in their decision making processes, institutional decision making at Phoenix College utilizes four Interest Councils, the Tri-Chairs Council, the Budget Steering Team (BST), and the College Executive Team (CET), as well as various college committees. These groups effectively address the interests of campus constituents and practice the principles of interest-based problem solving (IBPS) to achieve consensus.

Phoenix College has four Interest Councils:

- Academic Interests Council
- Administrative Interests Council
- Institutional Support & Technology Interests Council
- Student Interests Council

Each Interest Council considers proposals that fall within their purview. Each Interest Council reviews and discusses proposals that have been assigned to it and makes recommendations directly to the CET.

II. ORGANIZATION (CONTINUED)

The composition of each Interest Council is outlined in Appendix 1. Membership selection for each Interest Council begins with an open call to the College. Employee group leaders and supervisors are expected to encourage all employees to participate in order to ensure meaningful representation on the Interest Councils. Interested Classified Staff follow applicable policies, including mutual agreement of the employee and supervisor. Members of the Interest Councils may not serve on more than one Interest Council and will serve staggered two (2) year terms. Membership on Interest Councils balance expertise and experience as well as college involvement related to the Interest Councils. In seating the Interests Council, the Tri-chairs Council should endeavor to ensure that each Interest Council has representation that aligns to the areas under its purview (e.g., an IT employee on the Institutional Support & Technology Council). Compensation or reassign time may be available for serving on an Interest Council.

Each Interest Council is led by Tri-Chairs who share the responsibility of forwarding proposals to the appropriate Interest Council, as well as chairing their respective Interest Council meetings. The Tri-Chairs of each Interest Council are generally identified by the role they serve within the College (see Appendix 1). If a Vice President desires to designate an individual to serve as a Tri-Chair, the designee may accept or decline the appointment. The Tri-Chairs collectively serve as the Tri-Chairs Council, which seats the Interest Councils.

Prior to forwarding a proposal to an Interest Council, the Tri-Chairs Council ensures all relevant information is provided and that a proposal is appropriate for consideration by one or more of the Interest Councils. If the proposal does not meet the criteria (as outlined in Section III. What is Covered by the Shared Governance Process), it is returned to the author with an explanation and invitation to resubmit.

For proposals that fall within the purview of two or more Interest Councils, the Tri-Chairs Council may convene an ad hoc council to review and make a recommendation on the proposal. In the case of an emergency request, the Tri-Chairs Council may forward a proposal directly to the CET.

The BST provides fiscal oversight and makes recommendations to the CET on those proposals that have budget implications. One-time funds are provided to each division/unit of the College (Academic Affairs, Administrative Services, President's Office, and Student Affairs) based on the strategic goals of the college. These one-time funds are used to fund proposals submitted through this Shared Governance Process. Vice-Presidents shall maintain discretionary jurisdiction over budget requests under $5,000.

The CET has a sphere of responsibility that is broad in scope and significant to the overall governance of Phoenix College. The CET is responsible for providing a final review of proposals that have been recommended for implementation. In addition, the CET serves as an advisory council to the College President on matters related to operations, information technology, strategic planning, and college and student needs.

All active members of PC's Shared Governance Process are required to complete training on the principles of Shared Governance, use of interest-based problem solving (IBPS), and participate in all discussions and deliberations. Anticipated workload is 8-10 hours per month, which includes a minimum of two (2), two-hour Interest Council meetings per month and work outside of the meetings.

The Tri-Chair Council shall meet during the first and third week of each month. The Interest Councils shall meet the second and fourth week of each month. Specific days and times of meetings will be determined by members of each council.

For Tri-Chair Council meetings, at least two tri-chairs from each council must be present to constitute a quorum. For Interest Council meetings, there must be at least 50% plus one of the members present, and at least one representative from each employee group to constitute a quorum.

To ensure cross-division/unit transparency, college division/units have a decision process in place to decide matters that do not go through an interest council (e.g, day to day operations or existing staffing). Such a group must maintain the spirit of our shared governance culture, including collaboration with major stakeholder representatives.

COMMITTEES

Recognizing that the scope of work work of a committee may not be applicable to all employee groups, the membership composition of a committee may be adjusted to the scope of work required, including a committee requesting subject matter experts to serve.

However, each committee shall reaffirm its commitment to shared governance principles, establish norms conducive to collaboration, and expectations for service to the committee.

Committees will follow the same process and principles as indicated for the Interest Councils to ensure transparency and accountability. In addition, the college will practice an ongoing review of the necessity of particular committees and committees practices.

See Appendix 1: Composition of Interest Councils, BST, and CET

III. WHAT IS COVERED BY THE INTEREST COUNCIL PROCESS

Proposals submitted for consideration by the Interest Councils' shared governance process are those that have a college-wide impact and/or require the approval of the Phoenix College President or a Vice President for implementation.

Examples of items that may be considered (not a comprehensive list):

- New or significant changes to processes and procedures to implement District policies granted to the College
- Instructional program creation, expansion or elimination
- Instructional programs and partnerships
- Instructional departmental reorganization
- Professional development programming with funding implications beyond annual allocation
- One-time funding requests (e.g., temporary employees, new equipment over $5,000)
- Significant changes to departmental/division/unit organization and changes to reporting structure
- Base budget funding requests (e.g., regular hires for new full-time employees)
- Co-curricular program creation, expansion or elimination
- Community programs and partnerships with continued college implications
- Campus promotion
- Donor and alumni support
- Instructional and non-instructional technology

Examples of items that are not considered (not a comprehensive list):

- Grievances (instructional, non-instructional, or employee)
- Employee relations and personnel disputes
- Disciplinary actions and conflict resolution
- Interpretation of employee policies
- Standard operation, running of the business items
- Funding requests under $5,000
- Existing staff positions that become vacant within a division/unit

Proposals need to be submitted using the template found on the Shared Governance Resource webpage.

See Appendix 2: Proposal Template

IV. PROCESS

In order to have a comprehensive view of our collective endeavors, the Tri-Chair Council shall determine the prioritization of requests with budget implications in consideration of the college's strategic priorities. Once the Interest Councils have prioritized annual budget requests within their domain, the Tri-Chair Council will combine all college proposals and forward their prioritization to the BST, who will review the priorities as presented and make budget recommendations to the CET. The BST shall convey to the CET any discrepancies in their recommendations that differ from the Tri-Chair Council.

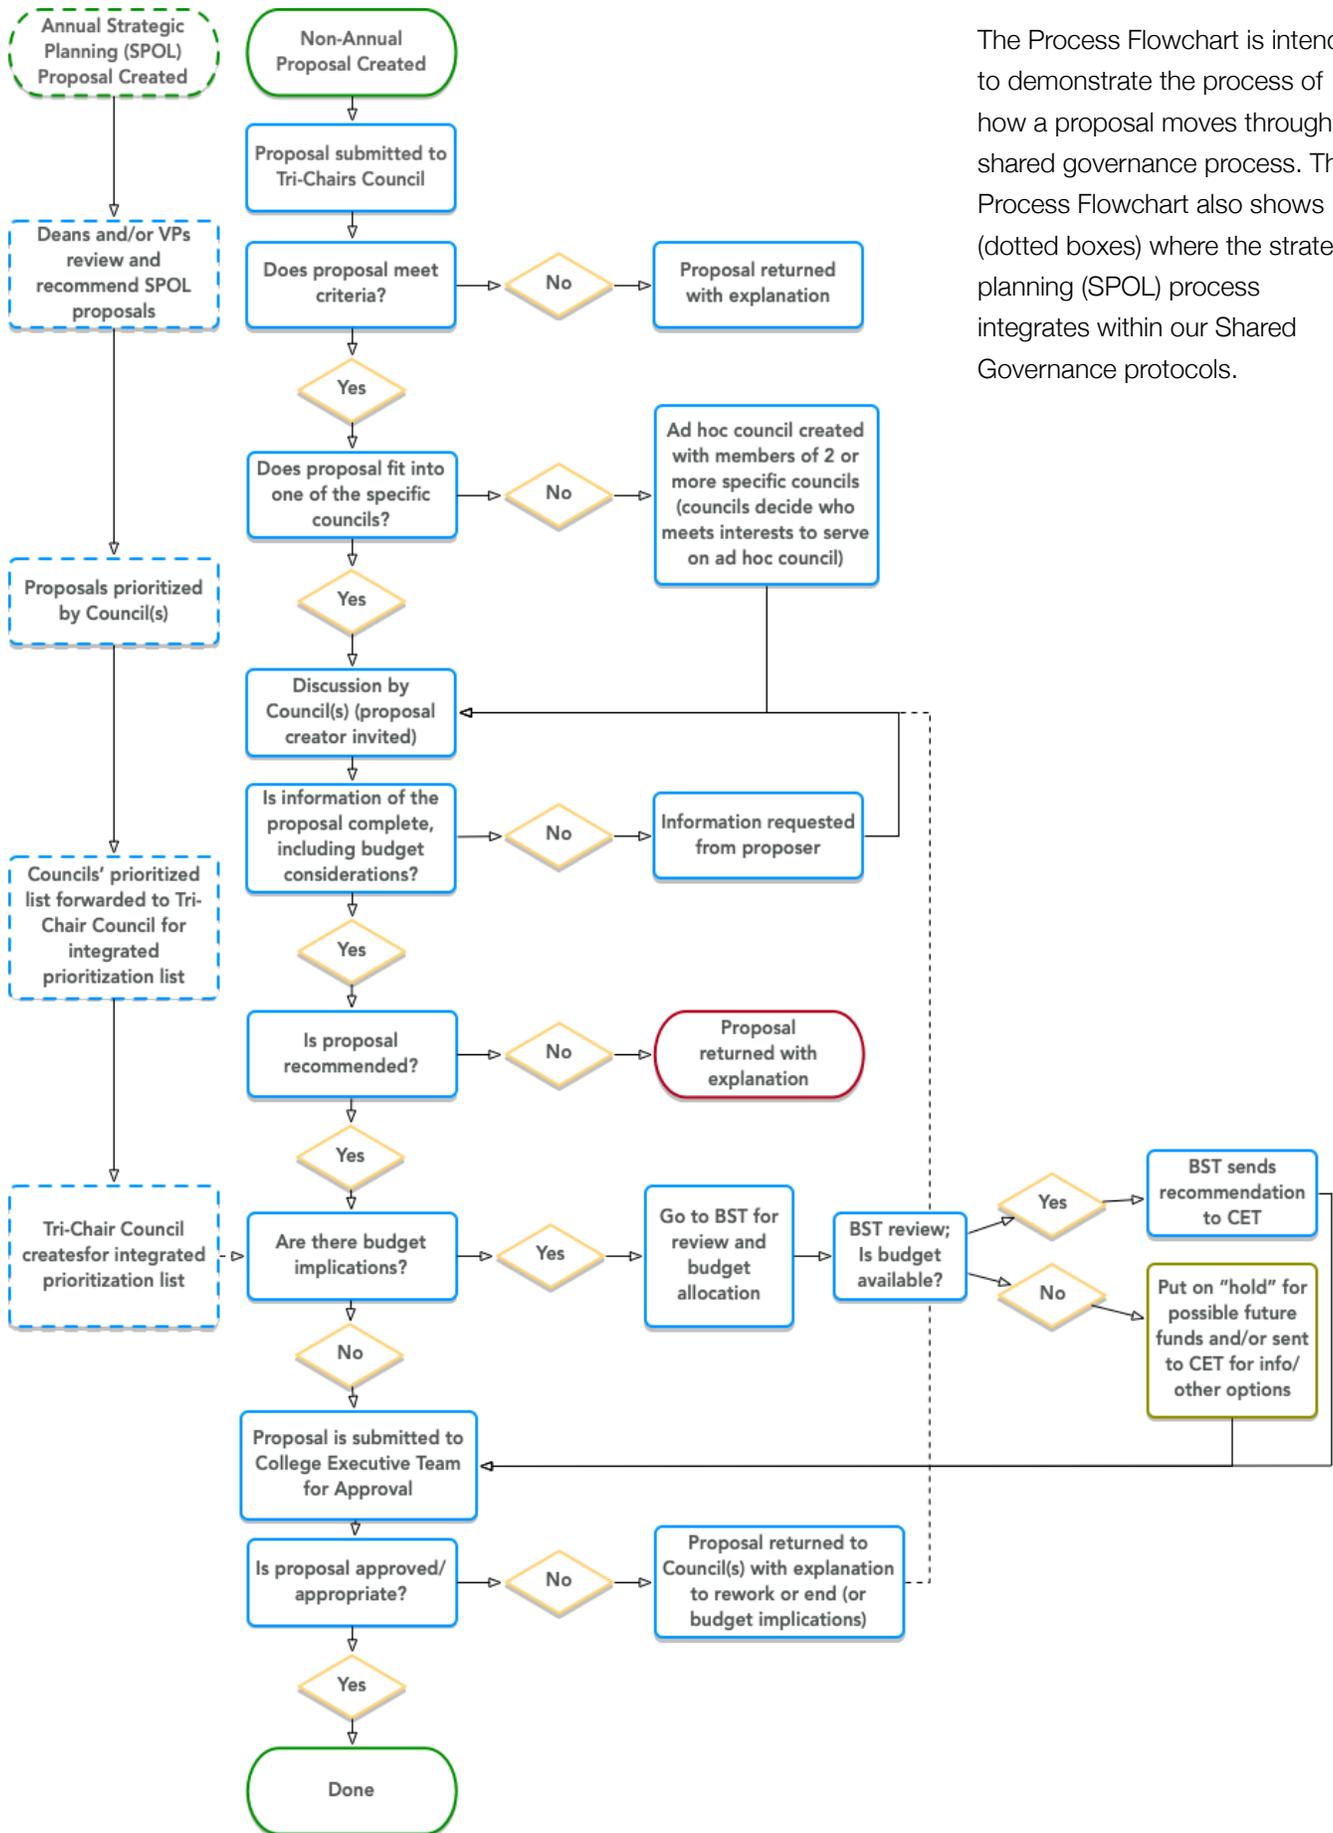

If a proposal falls within the purview of the Shared Governance process described, then:

1. Proposals may be developed and submitted for consideration at any time using the submission form (see Appendix 2). However, proposals requiring funding should adhere to the deadlines as described below.
 2. Within one week of a proposal submission, the Tri-Chairs Council reviews the proposal for applicability and completeness, only to ensure that all relevant information is provided and that a proposal is appropriate for consideration by one or more of the Interest Councils (see above for a non-comprehensive list of what falls within the process).
 3. One week prior to the Interest Council meeting, the Tri-Chairs send out an agenda for their respective councils, attach any proposals being considered, and notify the proposal author(s) with an opportunity to present at the Interest Council meeting and answer any questions related to the proposal. If the author(s) is unable to attend the meeting, they may be added to a future meeting agenda.
 4. If additional information is needed by the Interest Council, the author of the proposal is invited to provide the requested information. Upon receipt, the proposal continues in the process.
 5. After discussion, including any budget considerations, the Interest Council makes a recommendation. Outcomes of the Interest Council are:
 - a. Supported proposals
 - i. Supported proposals without budget implications are forwarded to the College Executive Team with a summary of the interests and rationale for the recommendation.
 - ii. Supported proposals with one-time funding implications may have funding recommended by an Interest Council from the Division's budget.
 - iii. Supported proposals with one-time funding implications that do not have funding available are sent to the CET for possible funding opportunities.
 - iv. Supported proposals that require a base-budget allocation are forwarded to BST for prioritization and funding recommendations.
 - b. If the Interest Council does not recommend the proposal, a rationale for that decision is provided to the author of the proposal and included in the minutes on the Shared Governance Resource webpage.
 6. Once a proposal has been forwarded to the CET, a final recommendation/decision is made. One or more of the Tri-Chairs of the applicable Interest Council attends the CET to advocate for the proposal.
 - a. If the CET approves the proposal, the author and Interest Council are notified and implementation commences.
 - b. If the CET does not agree with an Interest Council's recommendation, a rationale for that decision is provided to the council and the proposal's author, and made available to all stakeholders on the Shared Governance Resource webpage.
 - c. If the proposal is declined, the proposal's author may appeal the decision in writing to the CET within 14 days of being notified of the denial.

7. All Interest Council members are expected to attend meetings and serve as a liaison with their respective constituents in a timely manner, both seeking input on proposals and reporting on recommendations made. Resource Members (e.g., student representatives, individuals with expertise related to a proposal) only need to attend a meeting if it is determined by the Tri-Chair Council that their input is necessary for a particular proposal.
8. All proposals, except those with base budget or capital expenditures are considered and resolved in a timely manner, ideally not longer than one (1) month. Status updates on proposals are available on the Shared Governance Resource webpage.

Process Flowchart

The Process Flowchart is intended to demonstrate the process of how a proposal moves through the shared governance process. This Process Flowchart also shows (dotted boxes) where the strategic planning (SPOL) process integrates within our Shared Governance protocols.

IV. PROCESS (CONTINUED)

To ensure clear communication and transparency, all Interest Council and ad hoc meetings are open to all members of the College community. Meeting information, including schedules and agendas, are found on the Shared Governance Resource webpage.

The Shared Governance Resource web-page is accessible to all PC stakeholders and contains the following information:

- Description of the Shared Governance Process, including interest-based problem solving (IBPS).
- Description of all Interests Councils and BST that includes a written function statement, membership list (including terms of appointments), and contact information.
- Information regarding all submitted proposals, including the current status of review, meeting minutes and the final decision and rationale when determined.
 - ◉ Tri-Chairs of all Interest Councils post agendas for future meetings within one (1) week of the meetings, and post minutes of meetings within ten (10) days of the meeting dates.
